Medical.

Hoofland's German Bitters,
AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.
The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

Hoofland's German Bitters

Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcohol in any form of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,

Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.
Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.
Those who have no objection to the combination of the Bitters, as stated, will use
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.
They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.
The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathising as closely as it does with the Stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:
Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heart-burn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh. Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.
The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigations and inquiries possesses true merit, is skillfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well known remedies—
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,
AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.
PREPARED BY Dr. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PA
Twenty-five years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.
These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.
DEBILITY
Resulting from any Cause whatever; PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, etc.
There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheek, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.
PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,
And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS or the TONIC, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their refraining years.
NOTICE.
It is a well-established fact that fully one half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; or, to use their own expression, "never feel well." They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.
To the ladies of your locality, we would say that the BITTERS or the TONIC is especially recommended.
WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN
Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail. Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. These, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.
TESTIMONIALS.
HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Penna., writes:
Philadelphia, March 16, 1867.
"I find 'Hoofland's German Bitters' is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system.
Yours, truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD."
HON. JAMES THOMPSON,
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
Philadelphia, April 28, 1866.
"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of indigestion or dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it.
Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON."
FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,
Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.
Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that for general debility of the system, and especially for a torpid liver, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.
Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates st.
FROM REV. E. D. FENDALL,
Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.
I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver.
Yours, truly,
E. D. FENDALL.

The Star and Sentinel.

TWILIGHT FANCIES.

Twilight softly closes round me,
Dusky shadows fill the room,
Well-known objects glide before me,
Wierdly in the gathering gloom;
And with dreamy eyes I'm watching
Lingering daylight disappear,
While my busy thoughts are weaving
Curious fancies, quaint and queer.

First I build myself a castle,
Where I rule in queenly state,
Decked with oriental splendors,
All my fancy could create;
Crimson curtains shade the windows,
Softly letting in the light;
Heavenly strains of sweetest music
Fill the senses with delight.

Chandeliers of gold and silver,
Hanging from the frescoed ceil,
Marble dreams of olden sculptors
Half disclose and half reveal;
Tiny jets of perfumed water
Fall from antique vases rare,
Pillars carved from Parian marble
Rear their stately columns there.

There the sunset skies are brightest
With the glow of dying day,
There the sea-winds murmer softly,
There the gentle zephyrs play.
By the seaside I have reared it,
And it stands its stately pride
On the cliffs that frown defiance
At the inward rolling tide.

All that art and nature offer,
All that boundless wealth could buy,
To adorn my seaside palace,
I have brought from far and nigh.
Sweetest song-birds warble round it,
Softest sunshine lingers where
Proudly rise the lofty turrets
Of my castle in the air.

OUR CANDIDATES.

GEN. ULYSSES S. GRANT.

Eight years ago, when a Republican Convention at Chicago nominated Abraham Lincoln, a man not altogether unknown, and whom ever known respected, the country was taken by surprise, but rallied to his support as no old favorite had ever been supported, and in the terrible years that followed gave a place in the popular heart never accorded to any one except Washington. Now the country is not only not surprised at, but demands the nomination of a man then living at Galena, whose name the people had never heard when Lincoln was called from his quiet life at Springfield. Both Western men, and both residents of Illinois, though born the one in Kentucky and the other in Ohio, they were nominated for the first office in the people's gift by National Conventions held in the metropolis of their adopted State. Lincoln had a mission to perform, and the Convention of 1860 called him forth to perform it; Grant has that work to complete, and the Convention of 1868 asked him to complete it. His record in the past shows the singleness of purpose with which he will pursue the task allotted to him in the future.

Ulysses S. Grant was born April 27, 1822, at Point Pleasant, Clermont County, Ohio. Like Lincoln, his early intellectual advantages were of the most ordinary kind, but he was enabled to educate himself sufficiently to enter the Military Academy at West Point, to which he was fortunate in procuring a cadetship, though at the expense of his name Hiram Ulysses, which was given him in infancy for for one by which he has become known all over the world. If the clerical blunder which inscribed him Ulysses S. Grant could not be erased from the records of the Academy, neither can that name be blotted from the scroll of honorable history. He graduated in 1843 and was brevetted 2d Lieut. in the 4th Infantry. He served through the Mexican war receiving brevets of First Lieutenant and Captain for meritorious conduct at the battle of Molina del Rey and Chepultepec. After the war with Mexico he continued in the army for a few years, and while serving in Oregon in 1853 was promoted to a captaincy. The next year he resigned, going into business at St. Louis, and in 1859 he removed to Galena, Ill., where he was conducting an extensive tannery when the late war broke out. Capt. Grant was among the first to offer his services to the Government, and was given command of a regiment by the Governor of Illinois, with which he went into the active service in Missouri. It was not long until he was appointed a Brigadier-General of Volunteers (Aug., 1861), and assigned to the command of the District of Cairo.

The unfortunate battle of Bull Run and the varying fortunes in the South-West had a depressing effect upon the country, and the people were willing to take a leader on trust if he would only come heralded with a victory, however insignificant. Rich Mountain gave McClellan command of the Armies of the United States; the unfortunate expedition to Belmont doomed Grant to comparative obscurity at Cairo, and all near the close of the first year of the war. Then the brilliant victories of Fort Donelson and Pittsburgh Landing—the first of any significance gained by a Union army, could do little for him, and while the former made him a Major-General, the latter deprived him of a command. All eyes were turned toward the Grand Army of the Potomac, in anticipation of the great things it would accomplish when its leader chose to move upon Lee at Manassas; and decisive actions upon the Cumberland and the Tennessee were not considered, while the people were amused with promises never to be realized, and kept in constant expectation by assurances that all was quiet along lines a little nearer home. It were useless to attempt a description of these actions now, but when Grant completed a victory that had begun as a defeat, by leading in person a charge of six regiments, he showed that a General might promise little and yet accomplish much.—Soon after he had worsted the ablest Rebel leader in the South, who was killed in that fierce engagement at Shiloh Church, Halleck assumed command in the South-West, and the victor was rewarded for his two successes by subsequent neglect until September, 1862. He was then appointed to the command of the Army of West Tennessee, his forces constituting the 13th Army Corps, and fixed his headquarters at Jackson in that State. In the meantime McClellan had been driven from before Richmond, Pope had been defeated at the second battle of Bull Run, and an uncertain victory at Antietam had closed the career of a General who was called the head of the army in the favor of popular enthusiasm, and had been restored to command in a moment of popular despair. During the dark and terrible Winter that followed, the Army of the Potomac under its successive commanders lay on the banks of the Rappahannock, and fought the ill-fated battles of Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville, while Grant and Sherman were quietly working out their plans on the Mississippi and the Yazoo. When Lee moved northward in the Spring and Summer of 1863, and Meade was enabled to gain his great victory at Gettysburg, the capitulation of Pemberton added Vicksburg to Gettysburg in the associations connected with the ever-glorious Fourth of July. In detailing the appointments of Major-Generals which had been made in the regular army, Grant once modestly said: "After the capitulation of Vicksburg I was added," as if himself unconscious of the importance of an event that had given the army a leader who conquered a peace for the country, and makes him today the candidate of great the Republican party for President, an office which he would not desire were not the people intent or giving him this last mark of their confidence and esteem.

One who was within the Rebel lines during the invasion of Pennsylvania in 1863, was told by an arrogant Southerner, whose deserted home was near the spot where Grant's army lay, that the dark and fetid waters of the Yazoo would destroy his men even if there were no intrenched enemy in front to pick them off in detail. But the same flash of the lightning that brought the news of Meade's victory at Gettysburg brought word of Pemberton's defeat at Vicksburg. As a reward for this victory, Grant, in his own modest words, was added to the Major-Generals already appointed for the regular army, but unlike the time when he was commissioned a Major-General of Volunteers, no fortune now could doom him to inactivity. Before he was ordered to assume command at Chattanooga, after the unfortunate battle of Chickamauga, President Lincoln wrote him a characteristic letter. It was dated July 13, 1863, and was as follows: "My Dear General: I do not remember that you and I ever met personally. I write this now as a grateful acknowledgement for the almost inestimable service you have done the country. I wish to say a word further. When you first reached the vicinity of Vicksburg, I thought you should do what you finally did—march the troops across the neck, run the batteries with the transports, and thus go below; and I never had any faith, except a general hope that you knew better than I, that the Yazoo expedition and the like could succeed. When you got below and took Port Gibson, Grand Gulf, and vicinity, I thought you should go down the river and join Gen. Banks; and when you turned northward, east of the big Black, I thought it was a mistake. I now wish to make the personal acknowledgement that you were right and I was wrong."

A victory which could call forth such a letter as this from President Lincoln would produce in the mind of the Executive the most unbounded confidence in the capacity of the commander by whom it was gained. It is gratifying that that confidence was never betrayed and never disappointed. He first justified the President's faith, soon after he assumed the chief command in Tennessee, by the brilliant victory at Lookout Mountain, driving the Rebel Gen. Bragg from the Chattanooga Valley and Mission Ridge, and opening up the way for Sherman's Great March to the Sea. Then the National House of Representatives passed a unanimous vote of thanks to Gen. Grant for his victories and ordered a medal to be struck in his honor, while both Houses of Congress concurred in the passage of an act reviving the grade of Lieutenant-General, a rank never held by any one except Washington, and Grant was recommended for the post, it being prescribed that the Lieutenant-General should have command of the armies. President Lincoln formally presented him with his commission March 9, 1864, and having opened up the path to the final victory in the South-West, he at once proceeded to pave the way to success in the South-East.

The Grand Army of the Potomac, smarting under its many misfortunes, notwithstanding the bright spot of Gettysburg upon its banners, and its imperishable record for heroism, needed the prestige of Gen. Grant to give it confidence in itself. Those noble veterans felt that success was assured when they found him willing to join his great fame with theirs and to link his destinies with their fortune. He received his commission from the hands of the President, with but few words, and without indicating his purpose left the Executive presence to begin his advance upon Richmond. The Rapidan was crossed, and Lee fought in the terrible battle of the Wilderness; then he advanced to the North Anna River, and making a flank movement upon Cold Harbor, fought another sanguinary battle, the assault upon the Rebel works at that place; and then swinging around the intrenched lines of the enemy, he crossed the James and invested Petersburg. Desperate engagements followed, and, during the investment, he mined and blew up Fort Hell, a Rebel stronghold, with the view of taking the town by assault; but the operation failed, with severe punishment on our side, and heavy losses to the enemy. This, together with the desperate straits to which Lee was reduced, emboldened him to take the offensive, and on the night of the 27th of March, 1865, he moved three divisions of his troops before Fort Steadman, and surprised and captured the position. Before night it had been retaken, and at the same time the battle of Hatcher's Run was fought, continuing until evening. On the 2d of April the Rebel intrenchments, with 6,000 men, at Big Five Forks, were captured, and an attack was ordered along the whole line, under Grant's direction; which ended in driving Lee from his works and the abandonment of Richmond. Lee's retreat was cut off by rapid movements which Grant instituted, and on the 9th of April, just one week after the last great battle, the army of North Virginia capitulated.—Soon after the Rebel Gen. Johnson surrendered to Gen. Sherman, on the same terms granted by Grant to Lee, and the Great Civil War was ended.

If Gen. Grant was appointed to the command of the armies with a rank never held by any one before except Washington, a greater honor if possible was in store for him. He is now General of the United States Army, and soon he will be President of the United States.

THE HON. SCHUYLER COLFAX.

SCHUYLER COLFAX, the popular candidate of the National Union Republican party for the office of Vice-President, is a native of New-York City. He was born in North Moore-st., March 23, 1823, his father having died but a short time previous. With but limited means, his widowed mother could afford to keep him at school but a short time, and at the age of 10 he was placed in a mercantile establishment where he remained for three years, contributing materially from his small salary to the support of both himself and mother. In 1836, he and his mother, in company with others, left their home in this city and settled in St. Joseph County, Indiana. Shortly after his arrival in the West, he was appointed Deputy County Auditor for St. Joseph County, and employed his leisure hours in the study of State law, in which he is said soon to have become an acknowledged expounder. He read law pretty thoroughly during these leisure hours, but not with a view to adopting it as a profession. He had but little idea of what great benefit the information he was then gaining would prove to him in after years. In 1845 he started a weekly journal at South Bend, the county seat of St. Joseph County, called The St. Joseph Valley Register, becoming its sole proprietor and editor. A writer in The Indianapolis Journal corrects a mistake into which the public has fallen relative to Mr. Colfax's connection with the printing business. Mr. Lanman, in his Dictionary of Congress, says: "He was bred a printer."—He never was apprenticed to the printing business, and knew nothing of the practical part of the "art preservative of all arts" until after he had commenced the publication of The Register. With his ready tact and quick perception, however, and great anxiety to economise, for his means were yet very limited, he soon mastered the art sufficiently to "help out of the drag," but he never attained to any great proficiency in the business, his editorial labors, the business of the office and other duties soon claiming his entire attention. The Register prospered, and soon became a source of profit to its proprietor. It was ably edited, and was a model of courtesy and dignity. Every paragraph, however small, seemed to have passed under the supervision of and to reflect the mind and elevated thoughts of its editor. He continued his connection with this paper until three or four years ago, writing a regular weekly letter for its columns during his first two terms in Congress. It was during the early days of The Register, that Mr. Colfax was laying the foundation for the reputation he has since attained as debater. A debating club was formed, which held regular weekly meetings during the Winter season, and it was a rare occurrence indeed to find Mr. Colfax absent from one of these stated gatherings. Politics, the temperance reform, and other subjects, were often as ably debated in this society as kindred questions are in many deliberate bodies of much greater pretensions of the present day. The Hon. John D. Defrees, now Superintendent of Government Printing, and for many years editor and proprietor of The Indianapolis Journal, to which Mr. Colfax was also attached as Senate Reporter for some time after he commenced the publication of The Register, was also a participant in these debates. They were both Whigs, both ardent and sincere advocates of, and believers in, the temperance reform, and were consequently seldom pitted against each other in these debates. The attachment formed at this early day between those gentlemen still continues with unabated fervor. In 1848, Mr. Colfax was chosen as a delegate and elected as Secretary of the Convention which nominated Gen. Taylor for the Presidency. In 1850 he represented St. Joseph County in the Convention which framed the present Constitution of Indiana. In this Convention he opposed, with all his

THE U. S. Senate having failed to sustain the Impeachment articles by a two third vote, Secretary STANTON relinquished the charge of the War department. The Senate took up and approved the nomination of Gen. SCHOFIELD as Secretary of War, coupling the approval with a preamble re-asserting the unconstitutionality of STANTON'S removal by the President. Gen. SCHOFIELD took charge of the War Department on Monday, Gen. STONEMAN meanwhile succeeding to the command of the 1st military department. The Senate also adopted a resolution complimenting Secretary STANTON for his public services and fidelity, every Republican Senator voting for it except Ross, FOWLER and HENDERSON.

GEN GRANT, says the New York Evening Post, not long ago, declared in our hearing: "The rebels we whipped, as it was our duty to do; they fought us bravely, and I for one have no spite against them. If they behave themselves, I shall think well of them. But the treason sympathisers and peace men of the North—the men who during the war, reviled the soldiers, encouraged the enemy, and did their utmost to stop supplies and reinforcements to our boys in front, such men I can't forgive; I will never forget them, nor have anything to do with them."

THE nomination of GRANT and COLFAX is everywhere received by the Republicans and Union men throughout the country with intense satisfaction.—It is endorsed as the best and most popular Presidential Ticket ever presented to the people of the United States. That it will be elected there is scarcely the shadow of a doubt. The Copperheads have no man who can take the field against the Hero of the War and the vanquisher of the Rebellion, with any show of success.

EXPERIENCE having proved that, with JOHNSON'S Internal Revenue officials in the large Cities, conniving at the evasion of the Whisky tax, it is impossible to collect it, there is little doubt that Congress will reduce the tax to (say) 75 cents a gallon, or probably 50 cents. This appears to be the only mode left for breaking up the "Whisky Ring," which has corrupted the Senate and demoralized the entire Revenue service.

THE New York World has recently published an editorial leader which is evidently a "feeler" for the nomination of Chief-Justice CHASE. The Chief Justice will soon go to Richmond to acquit JEFF. DAVIS, and thus conciliate the Rebel interest in the South. The close intimacy between CHASE and JOHNSON, which was remarked upon all winter, is at last explained.

GEN. GRANT and Speaker COLFAX have formally accepted the Chicago nominations, in letters addressed to Gen. HAWLEY, President of the Convention. Gen. GRANT endorses the platform, and says if elected President it will be his endeavor "to administer all the laws in good faith, with economy and with the view of giving peace, quiet, and protection everywhere." We will give both letters next week.

THE Copperheads and Conservatives are trying to combine, but BRICK POMEROY is unwilling. He defines a "Conservative" to be "a smooth-tongued, soft-stepping, sly, selfish, treacherous, double-faced, forked-tongued sneak.

"BRICK" will have to be muzzled, or he'll forbid the bans.

SCHUYLER COLFAX comes of good Revolutionary stock. His grandfather, General WILLIAM COLFAX, commanded Washington's life-guard during the Revolutionary war.

JAMES BUCHANAN, ex-President, died near Lancaster on Monday, in the 77th year of his age.

GRANT and COLFAX Clubs are springing up all over the West.

THE STARVATION AT ANDERSONVILLE.

At last we have an Official Report on the Starvation of Union Prisoners at Andersonville, and by a distinguished Rebel officer. It is contained in a volume recently published in New York by Dr. AUSTIN FLINT, entitled: "Sanitary Measures of the War of the Rebellion, first volume (Medical)." This vol. contains the Report of Professor Joseph Jones, now Professor of Physiology and Pathology in the University of Tennessee at Nashville, who was commissioned by the Richmond war officials to undertake exact scientific and historical researches into the nature and causes of the epidemic and endemic diseases in the camps, hospitals and prisons of the Confederacy.

Prof. Jones' first official report to Surgeon General S. P. Moore, Richmond, was dated October 19, 1864, only eight months after the Andersonville Prison was established. In it he states these facts:

Up to that time, over 10,000 prisoners had died, nearly one-third of the entire number! More than 5,000 were there seriously sick in the hospital and stockade, and the deaths ranged from 90 to 130 a day. Diarrhœa, dysentery, scurvy and hospital gangrene were the chief diseases.

He then describes the condition of the Prison in a few scalding words:

More than thirty thousand men crowded upon twenty-seven acres of land, with little or no shelter from the intense heat of a southern summer or from the rain and dew, with coarse corn bread from which the husk had not been removed, with scant supplies of fresh meat and vegetables, with little or no attention to hygiene, with festering masses of filth at the very doors of their rude dens and huts, with the greater portion of the banks of the stream flowing through the stockade a filthy quagmire of human excrements, alive with working maggots, generated by their own filthy exhalations and excretions—an atmosphere that so deteriorated and contaminated their solids and fluids that the slightest scratch of the surface, even the bites of small insects, were frequently followed by such rapid and extensive gangrene as to destroy extremities and even life itself."

On page 447, Prof. Jones says: "I desire that this report should never see the light of day, because it was prepared solely for the eye of the Surgeon General of the Confederate army." The Richmond AUTHORITIES BURNED HIS REPORTS, the better to conceal their crimes, but the Sanitary Commission appealed to Prof. Jones in the name of science and humanity, and obtained from him copies of those elaborate manuscripts.

Their publication will set at rest all denials of the horrors of those Pens, and may even compel Copperhead Editors to admit that the facts previously published by Union Soldiers, were not over stated. Day by day, the crimes of the Rebellion are becoming manifest. The systematic and horrible starvation of helpless prisoners, is at last fastened, beyond denial, upon the chiefs of the Rebellion—the most infamous political organization which ever wielded power.

REPUBLICAN VICTORY.

The municipal election in Washington City on Monday last was closely contested. The Republicans had to fight a combination of Copperheads, Conservatives, and returned Rebels—all backed by the Whisky Ring—but achieved the victory.

The Chronicle claims the election of BOWEN, the Republican candidate for Mayor, by 36 majority.

GENERAL NEWS.

HARRISBURG has been chosen as the place for holding the Annual State Fair, which will come off this year from September 29 to October 2.

THE terms of the seven Republican Senators voting "not guilty" on the eleventh article of Impeachment expire as follows: Fessenden, of Main, 1871; Fowler, of Tennessee, 1871; Grimes, of Iowa, 1871; Henderson, of Missouri, 1869; Ross, of Kansas, 1871; Trumbull, of Illinois, 1873; Van Winkle, of West Virginia, 1869.

FARMERS in Western New York, the great apple region, make very favorable reports of the crops and fruit prospects in that section. Their work is already well advanced, having been begun about the middle of March.—They are sowing largly to barley. The winter grain looks remarkably well. Fruits are enough advanced to show that there will be an abundant crop, with the exception of the peach.

DISEASE AMONG HOGS.—We understand that Mr. Samuel W. Thomas, residing near Wye Mills, in this county, has lost nearly all his hogs, about seventeen in number, from a disease unknown, but supposed to proceed from the eating of locusts. It is said that the seventeen-year locusts are just coming to the surface of the earth, and it is thought the hogs root them up and eat them.—Centreville (Md.) Observer.

THE impeachment trial has demonstrated the close relations existing between the "Whisky ring" and President Johnson. The "ring" defrauds the Government out of not less than a hundred millions of dollars a year, and have, very naturally, used part of this money to keep in office Andrew Johnson who winks at their rascality. These swindlers are of course Copperheads, and "induce" many of the Copperhead papers to conceal these damaging facts from the people.

IT seems that a good many negroes in the South have voted the Conservative ticket at the late elections. They become accodingly the subjects of unbounded eulogy at the hands of the Conservative Press. So far as they are concerned, these journals see no sort of danger to the liberties of the country from negro suffrage. They protest, with renewed emphasis, that they have no prejudices against the colored people; all they ask at their hands is that they shall vote on the right side.

A CORRESPONDENT furnishes us with the following incident, illustrating one of the leading traits in the character of our future President:

During the Petersburg campaign of 1864 several privates were engaged in unloading barrels of "salt horse" from a transport at City Point, and were in charge of a Lieutenant of a New York regiment, who took every occasion to show his authority. To one of his abusive remarks one of the privates made reply; whereupon the lieutenant admistered severe kicks to the offender, who offered no resistance, but continued on with his work. A short, thick set man, wearing a slouched hat and a rather seedy officer's cloak, who had been standing by for some time, hereupon threw off his cloak and coat and proceeded to help unload the transport. After the task was accomplished, the officer donned his coat and cloak and asked the lieutenant, in very civil terms, his name and regiment;

"Lieutenant——, of the—— New York Volunteers. By what authority do you dare ask such a question?"

"Report yourself immediately to your colonel under arrest, by order of General Grant, for cruelty to your men, and remember that abuse of privates by officers is not tolerated by the present commander of this army," replied the "thick set" officer, lighting a cigar and walking slowly away. The startled Lieutenant was not long in discovering that it was Gen. Grant himself.

PROGRESS OF THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.

Telegraphic despatches report the completion of 600 miles of the Union Pacific Railroad. The rapidity with which this railroad has been constructed is without precedent in all the history of railroad enterprises. Two years ago, only 40 miles had been built, and yet, at the close of the working season of 1867, 540 miles were in active operation.—Through the winter months an accumulation of material for extending the road gave promise of renewed vigor this year, and the fact that 60 miles have been built and equipped since the frost was so far out the ground as to admit of track-laying, shows that that promise will be fulfilled. An immense force of laborers—about ten thousand men—is at work under skillful leadership, and before the end of the season, at least 500 more miles will be added to the complete distance. There will be then finished more than 900 miles west from Omaha, or more than one-half the distance to Sacramento. The summit of the Rocky Mountains, the highest point upon the entire line, has been surmounted and left in the rear by the builders, and the industrial army is now on the western slope toward Great Salt Lake.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company, which are doing this great work, are offering for sale their First Mortgage Bonds at par and accrued interest from January 1st, in currency. They are for $1,000 each, have thirty years to run, pay 6 per cent. gold interest, and principal as well as interest is payable in gold. These Bonds are issued only as the road progresses. The government loans, to aid in building the road, United States Bonds to the following amounts: $16,000 per mile from the Missouri to the Rocky Mountains; a distance of about 526 miles; $48,000 per mile for the 150 miles through the mountains, and $32,000 per mile thereafter. The Company are then authorized to issue their own Bonds to an equal amount, and no more. During last year, about twelve million dollars of these Bonds were sold, based upon the number of miles completed. The entire line to the Pacific will be complete in 1870, when the traffic and profit of the road must be immense.

The Company's Bonds have unusual provisions for security. The charter granted by Congress makes them a First Mortgage upon the entire line, taking precedence even of the government's claim, the latter holding a second lien as security for its advances. The receipts from way business show a remarkably successful operation of the line. During the eight months ending December 31, 1867, the net earnings were more than three times the interest upon the Company's Bonds, and the traffic must be greatly increased as the road progresses.

GRANT.—The type of a true American is thus graphically given in Colonel Badeau's Millitary History of General Grant: "When the civil war broke out Grant was a private citizen, earning his bread in an insignificant inland town. He was of simple habits and tastes, without influence and unambitious. Having never been brought into contact with men of eminence, he had no personal knowledge of great affairs. He had never commanded more than a company of soldiers, and although he had served under both Scott and Taylor, it was as a subaltern, and without any opportunity of intercourse with those commanders. He had never voted for President but once; he knew no politicians, for his acquaintance was limited to army officers and Western traders; even in the town where he lived he had not met the member of Congress who represented the district for nine successive years, and who afterwards became one of his most intimate personal friends. Of his four children, the eldest was eleven years old. He lived in a little house at the top of one of the picturesque hills on which Galena is built, and went daily to the warehouse of his father and brother, where leather was sold by wholesale and retail. He was thirty-nine years of age before his countrymen became acquainted with his name."

THE New York World said of the next President (before the Republicans nominated him): "He has within him every manly quality, which will cause the name of Lieutenant General Grant to live forever in history."

THE U. S. Senate, on Monday, passed the Bill to admit Arkansas into the Union, with amendments. The Bill goes back to the House for approval.

THE trial of Jeff. Davis has once more been postponed; this time until next October.

SETTLED AT LAST.—The long disputed question with the Sewing Machine fraternity, as to which is the best machine, was at last been definitely disposed of and set at rest by the unexpected appearance among them of that wonderful family machine, known as the "American Combination Button Hole and Sewing Machine." It at once carried off the palm without any ceremony about it, and left its competitors the question to settle among themselves as to which is the next best. In this secondary question the public will feel but little interest so long as they can be supplied with the "latest and best" and also the cheapest in the market. Another gratifying circumstance connected with this master piece of mechanism is the fact that it is entirely the product of the inventive genius and mechanical skill of our own citizens.—Those machines are manufactured in the factory of the company, Twentieth and Washington avenue, and sold at their rooms, southwest corner of Eleventh and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia. No lady should fail to examine them.—Phil'a Evening Bulletin.

CAUTION.—Pay no attention to the misrepresentations of Agents and Parties interested in the sale of other Sewing Machines. An Agent who will willfully misrepresent a good Sewing Machine simply because he is selling an inferior one, will also misrepresent his own, and the less you buy from such persons the better. Call and see for yourselves, and if you are not satisfied we will not ask you to buy. D. W. ROBISON, Agent, Gettysburg, Pa. May 27—2t

☞ The Editor of the "Review," Washington, Penn., writes as follows: A STANDARD MEDICINE.—A among the few remedies for the curing of disease, that has stood the test of experience and grown into popular favor, is Hoofland's German Bitters. This Bitters has been before the public for many years, and has been constantly growing in reputation. In many cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, disorder of the digestive organs, &c., it is used with the greatest success, and is often prescribed by the most skillful and experienced physicians.

To those afflicted with any of the diseases arising from bilious disorders of the stomach, and diseases resulting from a disordered condition of the digestive organs, this Bitters is said to be invaluable.

The Bitters is not an alcoholic drink, and a taste for alcoholic stimulants is therefore not engendered by its frequent use.

We belive that if our people—our farmers and mechanics, and all who are obliged to work out of doors in the wet and rainy weather of the spring and fall, would use the Bitters as directed, a large proportion of the fevers and bilious complaints with which we are afflicted, would entirely cease. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC is a compound made with all the ingredients of Hoofland's German Bitters, to which is added pure Santa Cruz Rum, orange, anise, &c., making a preparation of rare value, agreeable and pleasant. It is used for the same disease as the Bitters, by those requiring some Alcoholic Stimulus. Principal Office, 631 Arch St., Philad'a, Pa. Sold everywhere by Druggists and others. 1t

Gettysburg, Wednesday, June 3, 1868

REMOVED.—The Toll Gate on the Chambersburg pike has been moved nearer town, in order to collect toll on the travel to the Gettysburg Springs.

AT HOME.—It will be gratifying to the friends of Mr. JOHN L. BURNS, who was recently attacked with paralysis at Harrisburg, to know that he has recovered sufficiently to return home, and that he is in a fair way to recovery.

An interesting Odd Fellows celebration took place in York on Monday. Delegations were in attendance from Gettysburg, York Springs, and Hanover lodges—a special train being run from this place, returning at 11 P. M.

EXAMINATIONS.—On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday last, the Public Schools of this place closed the term with public examinations, which we understand were satisfactory to the Board and creditable to all concerned. The school's will re-open on the 1st of September, to continue nine months.

LITTLESTOWN.—The Building Association and agitation of the proposed Frederick and Pennsylvania Line Railroad are waking up the good citizens of Littlestown, various improvements being contemplated.—JACOB KELLER is about erecting a new dwelling on Gettysburg street, Mr. BAUMGARDNER one on Baltimore street, Mr. SLOTHOUR one on Frederick street, Mr. ISAAC STAUB a fine residence on Independent street, while others are in contemplation.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Mr. JOHN GREEN, of the "Globe Inn," Littlestown, met with a serious accident at the railroad crossing in Abbottstown street, Hanover, on the 21st ult. He had a lady with him in his buggy, and was about to cross the track, when a locomotive, the approach of which he did not hear, struck the buggy, throwing Mr. GREEN and the lady violently to the ground, and breaking the vehicle to pieces. Mr. GREEN was severely bruised, but sustained no breaking of bones. The lady, Miss HOUSEHOLDER, of Abbottstown, was cut about the face, but otherwise escaped. The horse was only slightly hurt. It was truly a narrow escape from fatal consequences.—Compiler.

POST OFFICE ITEMS.—We understand that the Post office at WENKS is to be supplied, as a special office, from Bendersville, and that regular service for the new route from York Springs to WENKS will not be advertized for before fall, and service on it will not begin before the 1st of July, 1869. Meanwhile, the other arrangement will remain, unless some reason be developed for a change.

Service on the route from New Oxford to York Springs, which was advertised for three times a week, has been ordered to continue six times a week as at present. This will relieve that large and thriving community of what would have proved a great annoyance, the restriction of present mail facilities.

Service on the Bendersville and Idaville route will be continued three times a week as at present.

ROBBERRY.—Last Wednesday, about noon, the dwelling of Mr HENRY PENSYL, in Butler township, near Center Mills, was robbed of various articles of clothing, money, &c. The house was locked up, Mr. PENSYL being absent from home, and Mrs PENSYL having gone down to the creek near by, with several of the children, to do some washing. On returning to the house, Mrs. P. found that it had been entered through a window and the bureaus, drawers, chests, &c., thoroughly ransacked, things generally being in admirable confusion. Among the articles missed, were $10 in Gold, $2 in Silver, $10 in U. S. Currency, a Silver Watch, a Pistol, 2 Shirts, 2 pair of Pants, &c. Suspicion attached to a stranger who had been prowling about the neighborhood, who was followed to Gettysburg, and arrested here the same evening by officer WEIKERT.—Some of the stolen goods were found on his person. He gave his name as WILLIAM ANDERS, and says he came from Maryland, but it is supposed he hails from the neighborhood of Westmoreland county. Justice MYERS committed him to jail to answer at next Court.

VISIT TO THE BATTLE FIELD.—On Thursday last the Presbyterian General Assembly, (New School,) in session at Harrisburg, visited Gettysburg in a special excursion train provided by the Northern Central Railroad Company, the party numbering near 350, including ladies and visiting ministers. Gov. GEARY accompanied them, by special request. Arriving at 11 A. M., the visitors moved in procession to the diamond, where Gov. GEARY briefly explained the programme for the day—first, to examine the enemy's lines on Seminary Ridge and the ground immortalized by the death of the gallant REYNOLDS; return to town and partake of a collation in Agricultural Hall provided by the citizens; and then visit the National Cemetery, Culp's Hill, &c. As their stay was limited, and it was necessary to make the best possible use of the time, the Governor proposed "to move at once on the enemy's position," and the visitors fell in line, headed by his Excellency and the Committee of reception—the ladies and older gentlemen taking carriages which had been provided. After examining the scene of the first day's fight, the visitors returned to town and partook of a collation in Agricultural Hall—Rev. Dr. STEARNS, the Moderator of the Assembly, leading in prayer; and Rev. Dr. COX, of Brooklyn, acknowledging the obligations of the visitors to the citizens for their courtesy in a neat and happy speech.

The line was again formed, marching to the National Cemetery, where brief but impressive ceremonies took place. The visitors ranging themselves around the base of the monument, Rev. Dr. SKINNER, of Union Seminary, N. Y., made an impressive prayer. Gov. GEARY read President LINCOLN'S celebrated dedicatory remarks, and then gave a brief but intelligent explanation of the Battle-field, the relative position of the contending forces, and a general outline of the great struggle, after which the entire Assembly united in singing the National Hymn, "America." After visiting Culp's Hill and other interesting points connected with the second and third day's fights, the visitors returned to Agricultural Hall, and at 6 P. M. left for Harrisburg.

The visitors made a favorable impression among our citizens, the Assembly embracing in its delegation quite a number of the most distinguished divines of the Presbyterian Church, and prominent laymen well known in political and commercial circles. This Assembly represents what is known as the "New School" wing of the Presbyterian Church, the "Old School" General Assembly being in session in Albany, N. Y.—The question of re-union is engaging the attention of both bodies, and although the older divines who participated actively in the theological disputations which severed the Church some 25 years ago, (including Drs. BRECKENRIDGE, HODGE, PATTERSON, &c.,) oppose the basis of union reported by the Joint Committee, it will be adopted by a large majority in both bodies. The proposition will then be sent down to the various Presbyteries for approval.

The basis of union has since been adopted by both bodies. In the Old School Assembly the vote stood 187 to 60. The vote in the New School Assembly was unanimous, Dr. PATTERSON and two others being excused from voting.

HONORS TO THE BRAVE.—Saturday last was observed throughout the country in honor of the fallen heroes of the Republic and the decking of the graves of the soldiers and sailors who gave their lives to the country in the struggle to suppress the rebellion. All over the land, where the bodies of soldiers and sailors of the Union armies lie buried, interesting exercises were had, in connection with the floral tributes of affection for their memory and the cause for which they died. The idea originated with General LOGAN, the Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of Republic, and was by him communicated through the medium of General Orders No. 11, to all the posts of the army, and the members of the organization at once showed every disposition to carry out to the fullest extent the orders of their Chief. The spirit which prompted the paying of honors to the memory of the dead was speedily caught up by the people everywhere, who during the war had sustained the Government.

In this place, our people generally cordially united in the movement, the evening of Saturday being designated by the Committee in charge of the arrangements. In response to the call of the Committee, a large number of floral offerings were sent in from various points in the county, and some even from distant places—the children of the Orphans Home, at Womelsdorf, Pa., through Mr R. A. LYTTLE, one of the teachers, sending by express a large box of wild flowers from their mountain Home.

In the course of the afternoon people come pouring into town from every direction in unexpected numbers, and by 5 o'clock, P. M., when the Stores and places of business closed, our streets were alive with a busy, moving throng of people. At 5:30 P. M., a procession was formed in the public square, under the marshalship of Capt JOHN P. MCCREARY, and moved to the National Cemetery in the following order:

1—The children of the National Orphans Homestead, carrrying boquettes and banners representing the various States whose dead repose in the National Cemetery.

2—Vehicle, draped with the American flag, containing the floral tributes.

3—Gettysburg Brass Band and Drum Corps.

4—Gettysburg Zouaves, Capt. NORRIS, and Franklin Zouaves, Capt. EICHOLTZ.

5—Soldiers of the war and citizens.

As the procession moved through Baltimore street, the bells of several of the Churches were tolled, and on entering the Cemetery grounds the Band played the "Dead March."

The military and citizens formed around the base of the monument, where the exercises were opened with an impressive Prayer by Rev. H. C. GROSSMAN. Lieut. WM. R. EYSTER then, on behalf of the Committee briefly explained the purport of the ceremony, reciting the following beautiful and pertinent passage from Percival:

"Here rest the great and good. Here their repose
After their generous toil. A sacred band,
They take their sleep together, while the year
Comes with its early flowers to deck their graves.
* * * * * * *
The joy
With which their children tread the hallowed ground
That holds their venerated bodies, the peace
That smiles on all they cherished, and the wealth
That clothes the land they fought for—these, though mute,
As feeling ever is when deepest,—these
Are monuments more lasting than the fames
Reared to the kings and demi gods of old.
* * * * * * *
Here let us meet, and while our motionless lips
Give not a sound, and all around is mute
In the deep solitude of a heart too full
For words or tears, here let us strew the sod
With the first flowers of spring, and make to them
An offering of the plenty Nature gives,
And they have rendered ours—perpetually."

Rev. Dr. BROWN followed in a brief but eloquent address, in the course of which he remarked in substance—

We have come to do honor to the noble dead—to strew with flowers the graves of those who died, that we and the nation might live. We have come not in mid-winter or with cypress wreaths, but in Spring time, when the fields are green, and the flowers blooming, and birds singing, that in sympathy with universal nature, we might bring our grateful offering of reverence and affection.—Seven years ago, and hundreds of thousands, who now sleep in soldiers' graves, were pursuing their peaceful avocations at home.—When their country called they left home and loved ones to uphold their country's flag and their country's honor. As they heartily bade farewell, they were assured that they would be cherished at home, and if any left children behind, they should be the children of the republic. Here on this hill, they met the hosts of rebellion and treason, and here thousands laid down their lives for freedom and the Union. The price of their death was victory, and safety for us and the nation. The pledges given to the noble soldiers of the union, we have now come to fulfil—to keep alive their mourners and strew with flowers their graves. Their orphan children—the representatives of half a million,—would strew these flowers upon the graves of their fathers, and the nation would recognize them as her own.

The noble dead, who fell here and on these neighboring hills, need no eulogium from our lips. They have secured the proudest of all earthly honors, and their tomb stones bear this inscription—THEY DIED FOR THEIR COUNTRY. There is no danger that they will be forgotten. They live in the hearts of more than twenty millions of citizens of this great republic. From all sections of the land, from across the ocean and from the other side of the sea, do pilgrims visit this hallowed spot. Not only soldiers and comrades in arms, but statesmen and patriots, gray hairs and tender youth, young men and maidens come, and will continue to come. Two days ago, and the delegates of one of the largest denominations, meeting in the Capital of the State, left their Master's business for a day to come hither: and venerable servants of God from nearly every State did reverence at this shrine of freedom and liberty, where their sons and brothers fell and sleep.

These flowers to be strewn tell that their death was beautiful and fragrant. It is noble and beautiful thus to die for one's country, and the whole land is fragrant with the odor of their heroic deeds. The blessings of peace and prosperity which we enjoy, they have secured for us. Ours is a debt of gratitude which no words or actions can ever express. But long as the Union lasts—and may it be perpetual—let a grateful people visit their resting place.

Strew flowers, sweet flowers, on the soldiers' graves,
For the death they died the nation saves.
'Tis sweet and glorious thus to die—
Hallowed the spot where their ashes lie.

Prof. FERBER then pronounced the Benediction, which closed the exercises at the monument. The decorating of the graves followed, the children of the Orphans Home passing from block to block, depositing the floral tributes, and chanting the following lines—

Lightly, lightly, lovingly tread
O'er the dust of the patriot dead,
Strew the flowers and the triumph wreath
O'er the brave who sleep beneath.

Lightly, lightly, lovingly rest
Wreath and flower upon each breast,
Offerings pure and sought with care,
Sacred made by love and prayer.

While this ceremony was going on national airs were played by the Band, and a salute of 22 guns (one for each block of graves) was fired—two of the Rebel pieces presented to the National Cemetery by the General Government being used for the purpose. They were effectively manned by details from the Zouaves. The scene at this moment was inspiring. The mellow rays of the setting sun bathed the Cemetery Hill in a flood of golden light. The chanting of the Orphans mingled with the music of the Band, broken by the occasional booming of cannon, while over 2,000 people, drawn together by the common impulse of doing honor to the patriot dead, looked on—all returning, as we trust, with a truer appreciation of the debt of obligation the nation owes to its fallen heroes. The entire ceremony was a fitting tribute to the immortal dead, and we hope to see it repeated year by year.

In the evening some interesting exercises took place in the School room of the Orphans' Homestead, opening with Prayer by Prof. STOEVER, and followed with vocal music by the children under the lead of Lieut. NORTON, and the reading of an original Poem by Miss LATTNER, commemorative of the sacrifices made in behalf of the Republic by its fallen soldiers.

SERVICES.—There will be Communion services in the Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church, on the second Sabbath in June, at 10 o'clock A. M. Preparatory service on the Saturday preceding at 10½ o'clock. Prof. FERBER will conduct the services.

ZION'S CLASSIS.—We notice in the German Reformed Messenger, a detailed abstract of the proceedings of this body, which recently met in East Berlin, from which we gather the following items of local interest, viz:

Rev. D. W. WOLF was elected President, Elder WM. A. WILT Treasurer, and Rev. W. R. H. DEATRICH Stated Clerk.

The Churchtown congregation was detached from the Mechanicsburg charge and, with the Bellings Springs congregation, united to the Sulphur Springs charge, leaving the Mechanicsburg congregation a separate pastoral charge.

There are five vacant charges, two of which expect to be soon filled, the other three to be temporally supplied by a Committee.

Revs. Zieber, Ziegler, Miller, Deatrich and Colliflower, were constituted a Historical Committee to secure narratives of the organization, growth and fortunes of each congregation within the bounds of the Classis, with biographics of deceased ministers who have labored within the bounds of the Classis, the whole to be compiled and recorded or published in book form.

The following are the delegates to the next Synod, viz:—Revs. David W. Wolff, W. R. H. Deatrich, Ephriam Kieffer, and Daniel Gring, Primarii; and Revs. William F. Colliflower, Jacob Sechler, Jacob D. Zehring, and R. R. Smith, Secundi. Elders J. P. Hassler, William A. Wilt, Jacob Ditzler, and Jacob Frownfelter, Primarii; and Elders Dr. O. T. Everhart, John Weist, David Lupfer, and Abram Loucks, Secundi.

At the request of the Joint-Consistory, the name of the Littlestown charge was changed to that of Christ's Church Charge.

Newport, Perry county, was chosen as the place for the next Annual Meeting.

The session, which is represented to have been very harmonious, closed with a cordial acknowledgment of the kindness and hospitable manner in which the good people of East Berlin had entertained the Classis.

DAMAGE COMMISSIONERS.—In accordance with an act of Assembly approved April 9th, 1868, "for the relief of the citizens of the counties of Adams, Franklin, Fulton, Bedford, York, Perry and Cumberland, whose property was destroyed, damaged or appropriated for the public service, and in the common defense, in the war to suppress the rebellion," Gov. GEARY has appointed the following named gentlemen a Board of Commissioners to investigate and adjudicate the claims of said citizens:

David W. Woods, Lewistown, Mifflin county.

Anthony S. Ely, Lebanon, Lebanon county.

W. S. Woods, Carlisle, Cumberland county.

All these gentlemen are favorably spoken of as men of integrity, judicious and disinterested. They will visit the several counties and give due notice of the time and place when and where claims are to be presented.

CURIOUSITY.—Mr. JACOB REMMEL, of this place, has a hen which seems disposed to deal in queers "freaks of nature." Last week it hatched a chicken, which is still living and apparently healthy, having four legs, two occupying the usual position and two extra in the rear of them. The same hen hatched out another curiosity this season, in the shape of a double chicken, or two chickens grown together at the heads.

DEMOTT & WARD'S UNITED CIRCUS AND MENAGERIE.—This Exhibition will we judge from what we have read concerning it, render more real satisfaction to those who attend it, than any of its predecessors have done. The proprietors, although young men, are practical ones, both in professional and business capacitices, and they possess all the knowledge and the material for giving a successful Exhibition. They work themselves and have a professional pride about them which we regret to say speculative showmen do not entertain. They are both eminent artist, Mr. DeMott being acknowledged as one of the best bare-back riders in the world, while Mr. James Ward has for many years been a favorite leading clown in all the principal travelling and permanent Metropolitan Circuses and Amphitheatres.—The troupe of ladies and gentlemen have been selected with great care, and all the attractions of the Menagerie put together in most unexceptionable taste. By judicious outlay at the start, the young proprietors have got a better character of show, and a more extensive establishment than has ever visited a locality of our population. They have expended more money for talent and good material than they have for outside show. Their entree into town is as grand as anything could be desired; their outfit is new, and everything fresh, brilliant and pretty. They have a superior stock of horses, and for number and variety of rare performing animals stand unsurpassable, with the Baby Elephant, the Sacred Bull, the Acting Bears, the Lions, Tigers, Leopards, &c., the fine Female Riders and Manly Athletes, their United Circus and Menagerie should satisfy the claims of the most exacting. It

J. H. SHIREMAN'S
REAPERS & MOWERS.

HAVING been agent for this machine last season, I also offer it to the farmer this season. It is well known, having taken the premium at the Bendersville Fair, also at the Gettysburg Mowing Match over seven others, which were considered splendid machines, and likewise at the Dillsburg Mowing Match. Having concluded not to dispose of any machine that will not give entire satisfaction, I have refused agencies of several other machines, and now offer this one as

THE GREAT MACHINE OF THE SEASON.

Having tried one myself, I know exactly what it will do. I could refer you to scores of farmers who have purchased machines of me, who are highly pleased and say this is the only machine that would use.

Extras always on hand, and repairing done here at my place. This is a great consideration—the machine can be repaired at home immediately, and with much less cost.

Another great recommend is the BINDER which is attached to this celebrated Reaper and Mower. It has been thoroughly tried, and given entire satisfaction—requiring no harness but exepts a driver. This binder can also be attached to the machine which I have sold; but cannot be attached to any other machine except Shireman's.

I will here refer you to a few farmers, in different localities, who have bought and used these machines:

Michael Fiscel,	Stephen Gettier,
Moses Hartman,	Mr. Sterner,
Joseph Wierman,	Mr. Linn,
Ulrich Jacobs,	J. R. Hershey
Jacob Hartman,	B. B. Woodbury,
Jacob Lamed.

with others, too numerous to mention.

This machine has a self-rake, side delivery, and is warranted to do its work as above recommended.

Also on hand, SHIREMAN'S SELF-DISCHARGING HORSE RAKE, a first-rate article, which we will sell at the lowest possible price. Warranted to give satisfaction. Also the COLUMBIA RAKE always on hand.

Machines can be seen at my house, three miles south of Gettysburg, or at Mr. Conrad Snyder's Battlefield Hotel. LEWIS A. BUSHMAN,

The Farmer and Housekeeper.

AGRICULTURAL CLIPPINGS.

Platform scales for weighing cattle would pay every neighborhood of farmers. Buyers who estimate weights, and are experienced in weighing by the eye, are almost sure to get the advantage of the seller.——Old moments cannot be spent to better pecuniary advantage than in setting out vines, shrubs, etc. It is wonderful how much can be done, "without feeling it," by those who take advantage of such opportunities for homestead improvements.——Butter keeps up to war prices, almost. Farmers with good grazing lands ought to take the hint.——The Victoria and White Grape are perhaps the best varieties of currants for home cultivation. It is foolish to set out the old Dutch varieties when these can be obtained.——Milking hints: Have the same milker regularly for each cow; milk rapidly; talk as little as possible; let the milking times be as equi-distant as may be—twelve hours between; have regular hours in any event.——A gentleman in Fredonia, N. Y., claims to have originated a thornless blackberry, nearly or quite equal to the Lawton and a hardy grower.——Two bushels of blue grass, two bushels of red top, one bushel of creeping bent grass and twenty pounds of white clover, to the acre, F. E. Elliott's recipe for seeding down a lawn. He fills the ground with grass seed to crowd out the weeds.——Raspberries appreciate deep mulching.——Grapes do splendidly when allowed to climb among trees. It's nature.——Fruit vines can hardly have too high manuring but cherry trees are often killed by it. They do better in lots devoted to grass, than in cultivated orchards.——It is said that pigeons prefer weed seeds to cultivated grain and really do a great service in keeping down chess and cockle.——A poor fence is no defense but a serious offense to good farming.——The last recipe for keeping eggs, is to place them in boiling water twelve seconds; this thickens the inside skin, and keeps out the air.——Onions chopped fine and mixed with corn meal are an excellent medicinal food for poultry occasionally.——There is large profit, for farmers who can sell milk, in contriving to have a number of new milch cows in the fall. The cows in a winter dairy need good food, for which there should be previous preparation.——The Journal of Horticulture pronounces against the robin as an enemy to the fruit grower and advises a war of extermination.——All the weeding for strawberry beds should be done before the plants bloom.——The Country Gentleman says that if cows are fed on early cut timothy, put up in good order, the butter will come with little trouble.——Sliding "railroad doors," hung on iron trucks or wheels, at the top, are the best for barns—they open more easily, they are tighter, they will not sag and are less in the way. But the wheels should never be at the bottom.——Other things being equal the more moisture cows take with their food, and the more water they drink, the more milk they will give.——An Agricultural Society in Mass. has appointed an agent to buy farm implements, seeds, etc. for members, they to have the benefit of the wholesale rates, beyond the commission allowed the agent. Good application of the co-operative principle.——Red apples sell better than any other color in market—in other words their sale is readier.——On clay soils manure liberally and plow under, on light soils top-dress less freely but apply it oftener.——Always loosen a check rein before watering a horse—the position is an unnatural one in which to drink even if water be held up in a pail. Better yet would it be to keep the check rein loose all the time. It's an instrument of torture at the best. Three years is long enough for a hen to live. At that age sell or eat her and let a pullet take her place at egg-laying.——The June bug is such a pest in France that the authorities pay a reward for their delivery, at the rate of one dollar per hundred pounds.——Fruit culturists are beginning to turn their attention to the huckleberry as a desirable fruit to cultivate.——Those who make much butter will find quite a revenue in making cheese from their skim milk. It sells readily.——Chicago Advance.

CULTURE OF THE POTATO.—From an article written by Mr. E. Williams, the well known nurseryman of Montclair, N. J., we select the following remarks on the preparation of the seed and the soil:

THE SEED AND ITS PREPARATION.—If you were to see a farmer save his corn nubbins for seed, or select the meanest and most indifferent specimen of horse, cow or swine, from which to perpetuate his stock, you would doubtless at once set him down as a fool. Let us hope this practice is not prevalent; yet many otherwise intelligent farmers act about as sensibly in their potato growing; for they insist year after year in selecting small seed, and then wonder they don't succeed better; "potatoes don't do as well as they used to—shall have to buy potatoes this season!"—&c., &c.

Now reasoning from analogy, "like begets like," and for the same reason that I would select the best ears of corn, the best and heaviest wheat, rye or oats, for sowing, would I select the best, largest and smoothest potatoes for planting, believing, as I do, that such potatoes are earlier, maturer and better developed than small ones.

True, such seed would bring a little more than small ones in the market, but a few dollars and cents gain there is no comparison to the gain I believe I get in the increased yield, continued health and vigor of potato crops.

I believe one chief cause of the failure and deterioration of the potato is the persistent use of small and immature seed. My experiments have led me to practice cutting seed to one or two eyes, to prevent overstocking, and to allow the growing tubers room to "spread themselves."

THE SOIL.—I generally follow corn with potatoes. If the corn was well manured with stable manure, and the sod well decomposed, I plant the potatoes in drills or rows about thirty inches apart, and ten to twelve inches apart in the rows, with only a slight dressing of lime, ashes or plaster applied on the seed after dropping. If the soil is poor, I apply a good dressing of well decomposed manure broadcast, and harrow it in. (Green, unfermented manure is to be avoided, as it tends to engender disease.) In either case I apply the dressing of lime, plaster or ashes in the row before covering, and plant early. If the ground is very foul I plant in hills two and a half to three feet apart, and cultivate both ways. As soon as the young plants begin to peep through I hitch to harrow and cross the rows. This is the first cultivation. In about a week or ten days I run a plow through, turning the furrow from the rows, and hand hoe, taking particular pains to loosen the earth around the plant, which, by this time, is apt to be somewhat baked. For this purpose, or hoeing of any kind, I have never seen an instrument that will compare with an unpatented pronged hoe which I have had made to order. The next plowing is done just before blooming; the furrow turned towards the row, hand hoed and hilled moderately. No further attention to them till harvest, unless it be to pull out some weeds that may have escaped our attention at the last working.

An exchange proposes that hereafter, instead of saying "Let us sing the Doxology," the ministers shall say, "Let us put on overcoats, adjust furs, slip on gloves, seize our hats, and be dismissed."

THE GREAT CHOLERA PREVENTATIVE.

X. 1836. L.

THE GREAT

Zingari Bitters.

THIS WONDERFUL REMEDY was discovered and introduced about twenty years ago by Dr. S. Cheops, an eminent Egyptian physician.

He had long seen and felt the want of some remedy which would strike at the root of disease, and so prevent much of the suffering which the human family was then compelled to endure.

This great question was presented to his mind every day in its vicissitudes as he moved among the sick and dying, and directed the inefficiency of nearly all the remedies then in use. Thus he was led to think and experiment; and after ten years' study and labor, he presented to his fellow men the wonderful Zingari Bitters. The effect of this preparation in the prevention and cure of disease, was so surprising and astonishing, that the most flattering marks of esteem for were bestowed upon him who discovered it. His name was placed upon the Roll of Nobles, and a gold medal with the following inscription Dr. S. Cheops, the Public Benefactor, was presented to him by the Viceroy.

The preparation has been used in several epidemics of cholera, both as a preventive and curative measure, and with such great success, that it has been introduced into nearly all the general hospitals of the old world.

The old saying that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, applies with marvellous force to cholera, and therefore any remedy that will protect us against this terrible disease should be freely and persistently used.

All pathologists now agree that the cholera poison acts on the system through the blood, and that any combination which acts on the excretory organs, and keeps them in working order, will prevent such a sufficient accumulation of the poison to exert its terrible effects on the organism. This is true not only of cholera, but of nearly all other malidies, especially the different forms of fever.

The Zingari Bitters is just such a remedy as the above conditions require. It acts on the organs of excretion and secretion, keeping up a perfect balance between them. This Bitters is composed entirely of roots and herbs, so nicely concocted that every organ is acted upon and put in tone. Its taste is pleasant and its effects prompt and lasting.

Numerous cases of the following diseases have been cured by it: Cholera, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Scrofula, Typhoid and Typhus Fever, Fever, Ague, Nervous Debility, Anæmia, Female Irregularities, Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Colic, &c.

Price One Dollar per quart Bottle.
